

Augustus Martin Information Security Policy

Business purpose

To be the UK's provider of choice for large format print based solutions, by providing innovative and sustainable products and, service excellence that improve the way our clients communicate with their customers.

Information security vision and outcomes

- To control all security risks during client and partner engagements with the adoption of effective and state-of-the-art information security techniques.
- To manage the end-to-end operational Print conditions to ensure that the confidentiality of client information is preserved.
- To comply with the letter and spirit of all relevant legal, regulatory and contractual requirements.

Policy commitments to achieve our vision

- We will establish an information security management system (ISMS) that conforms with the requirements of ISO 27001:2013, achieve certification and maintain this over time whilst seeking and implementing improvements to our system and our security performance.
- We will regularly monitor the resources needed to support an effective ISMS and ensure that these are provided on a timely basis.
- We will assess all security weaknesses, events and emerging threats to ensure that our staff receive appropriate training and education.
- We will form meaningful risk-based information security objectives to drive significant information security improvements, and we will plan and monitor these to ensure they are achieved.
- We will establish some key information security metrics to ensure that we have a valuable insight into the state of our security performance and are able to take appropriate action quickly to address issues or deteriorating trends.

This policy is supported and endorsed by the Augustus Martin Senior Management Team, including Michael John (CEO).
